Classroom teacher positions

School information

Aurora College, the state's first virtual secondary school, commenced classes in February 2015. The school is a Department of Education priority and a key deliverable of the Rural and Remote Education – a Blueprint for Action (pdf 1.4MB). Aurora is a gazetted 'stand-alone' school.

The school provides innovative and flexible learning in a whole new context, by allowing students to connect locally and learn globally.

Aurora College offers a mix of online and residential school classes. Aurora teachers remain in their 'home school' and connect with their students in timetabled lessons through a virtual learning environment which comprises web conferencing software, a learning management system, and a range of online communication and collaboration tools. The school also has its own digital resource repository and one of the state's first Oliver digital school libraries.

The successful applicants will be required to teach face-to-face classes in a five day residential school program, held twice each year. Reimbursement for travel and living expenses will be in accordance with the relevant award provisions. If appropriate, days of non-attendance at school will be negotiated with teachers who are required to teach face to face classes during the residential school program.

The school of the successful applicant will be provided with:

- a staffing supplement so the teacher can be released to teach a part-load at Aurora College
- a casual relief payment to support the teacher in preparing Aurora College learning and teaching programs and resources
- enabling technology, including a laptop
- an allowance to support resource development and other costs.

The attached Information at a glance and the school website (www.aurora.nsw.edu.au) describe the college's ethos, aims and objectives.
