The Greek Teacher's Survival Guide

Mr Theodoros Panagiotou, PK-12 Leader of Mission, All Saints Grammar College, NSW

Dr Aikaterini Kokkinaki, Teacher of Greek, All Saints Grammar College, NSW

Το τοπίο στην τάξη των ελληνικών συνεχώς μεταβάλλεται. Ο Έλληνας εκπαιδευτικός οφείλει να εξελίσσεται και να προσαρμόζεται ώστε να καταφέρει να “επιβιώσει” στις ολοένα και πιο απαιτητικές συνθήκες διδασκαλίας. Ο στόχος της παρουσίασης είναι να προτείνει ιδέες και εργαλεία που μπορούν να υποστηρίξουν το μάθημα των Ελληνικών και να το κάνουν πιο ευχάριστο και πιο δημιουργικό.

Theodoros was born and raised in Greece and holds a Bachelor of Education from the University of Ioannina. Theodoros' first appointment in Australia came through the Greek Ministry of Education as a seconded teacher. He was the Head of the Greek Department in the Primary School at All Saints Grammar and is now school's Academic Leader of Mission PK-12. With more than 20 years of teaching experience in Australia and Greece, Theodoros enjoys creating teaching resources that integrate technology and enhance learning and student engagement.

Dr Aikaterini Kokkinaki holds a PhD from the University of Bristol. Her thesis explored online and face-to-face collaboration between students with the use of an Online Learning Environment. Her research interests focus on collaboration, technology, social constructivist theory and primary education. Aikaterini also holds a Master of Science in Education from the Department of Education, University of Oxford and a Bachelor degree from the Department of Primary Education, University of Patras. Aikaterini is currently working at All Saints Grammar as a Greek Language Teacher.
