In October 2012, The University of Tokyo launched its first undergraduate degree programs in English as PEAK (Programs in English at Komaba, http://peak.c.u-tokyo.ac.jp/) and now has 100 students from 23 countries and regions, including 4 Australians. Each program is taught entirely in English and provides the opportunity to learn the Japanese language. Merit-based full scholarships for 4 years are available.

Mariko Watanabe, who is in charge of international public relations will give an introduction to The University of Tokyo and PEAK to attract more students from Australia.

Registration is taken by Tuesday, 6 September and spaces are reserved on a first come, first served basis.

Registration and Contact:
Mariko Watanabe, Globalization Office
College of Arts and Sciences, The University of Tokyo
E-mail: globalkomaba [at] global.c.u-tokyo.ac.jp (Please replace “[at]” with @.)

Please write “PEAK seminar in Sydney” in the subject line and inform us of your name, school, e-mail address as well as the number of people you will bring with you.